

Dear FCC, The television airwaves belong to the public and should serve the public interest. Sometimes they do as they entertain and inform us. But when private individuals are allowed to use this public domain for their selfish interests to further their self picked preferred candidate with smear and innuendo, you should step in and put a stop to it. Please stop this effort by Sinclair groups to air the pseudo-documentary Stolen honor, wounds that never heal. I am 52 years old and I do remember the days when something this partisan had to be balanced with comments from the opposing viewpoint. Even if the fairness doctrine was did away with in 1986 that is not an excuse. Let Bush or whomever benefits from this win fair and square and not be allowing to bear false witness. Yours Dave Milam
